raiso Yesterday. NEW YORK, Oct. 17 .- A special to the Herald from Valparatso says:

Three, perhaps four, American man-of-war's men were killed and several others were more or less severely wounded in a desperate street fight here this afternoon with a crowd of Chilian satiors.

The Chilians did not do all the fighting, for when the fight was ended a number of them were found to be pretty badly hurt, though, so far as I can ascertain new, none of them were

The American bluejackets who were engaged in the battle were from the United States cruiser Baltimore, and the Chilians were from the various war ships now in the harbor.

It is impossible at present to get the full particulars of the fight or the names of the killed and wounded.

There are several accounts as to the origin of Page 3

The letter head of the Rochester concern gives the location of the home office at 806 Walnut street, Philadelphia, and places branch offices at New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Boston, Baltimore, Trenton, Washington, Cincinnati, Detroit, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Buffalo and St. Louis. The name of the head manager is given in various places as "F. Rice Wright" and "F. R. Wright." The idea seems to be that Wright starts the business in various cities and then leaves local agents in charge. The Rochester concern had about 600 members, of whom about 300 are in good standing.
